Hello All You Wonderful People,

Well – I sure hope you all had some great holidays. It was great here. Not too much snow – but a little white.

I have been ill. While that was going on – I got nothing else done. I'm so far behind that I just hope that I will get things caught up by next month's newsletter.

Luckily, I was ahead before I got sick, so some things were already done. Most of what's in this mailing was already done – just not put together yet.

Sorry it's so short – but if I wait 'til I have time to make it better – it will be time for the February Newsletter.

Notice that the only things that went up are the prices of the C350 – Paint Rack. (So you get a new Accessories page) and the price of the Transfer Paks ($5.75).

I have changed the Kits around quite a bit. I think they are better now. I had not done anything with the Kits since before we got all the paints in that we have now. So you get new Kit pages.

In the last newsletter I put out the Transfer Paks in black and white. That was really dumb – since everything else is in color. Here is a new Transfer Pak page with the designs in color.

I will be bringing out Transfer Paks for the next few months instead of individual transfers. That gives you four (4) transfers a month instead of three (3) like I was doing last year.

You will see the newest Transfer Pak (T5051) on the new Transfer Pak page that I'm sending you this month. After this it will be in the body of the newsletter as usual.

January Workshops

My Workshop will be January 21st. It starts at 11:00 AM and ends around 3:00 PM. Bring a sack lunch or eat before you get here. You can actually leave whenever you need to.
